

Ready to be your own boss?

We're a Family, Not a Franchise...

We've been in business since December of 2010. We have over 27 Mobile Game Theater owners and a private Facebook Forum with 60 members. We are big on training, territories that are protected no matter what the situation and building a really nice, quality unit with a lot of extras. We have fun at work and so should you!

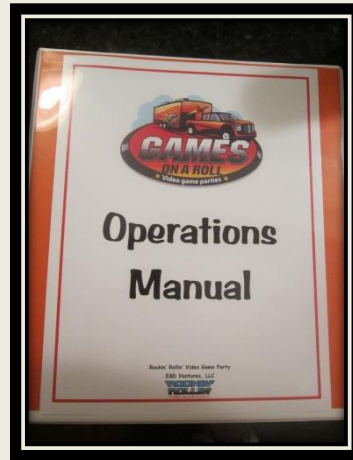

Rockin' Rollin' Video Game Party's Units seat more gamers, have 6 inches more head room and a ton of extras like mag wheels, laser light show, LED colored lighting, satellite ready wiring and under glow lighting.

We even throw in a spare tire, cleaning supplies a step and a vacuum cleaner!

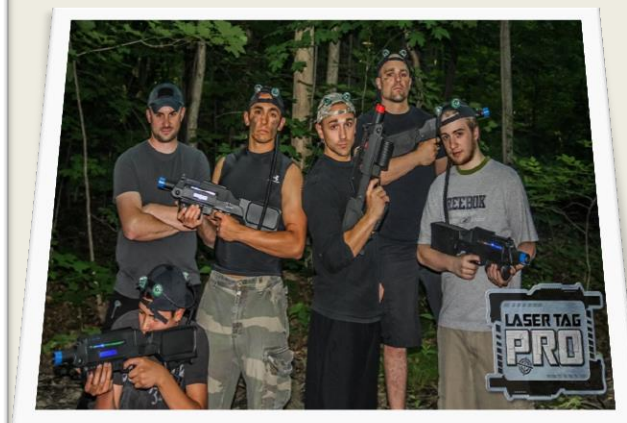

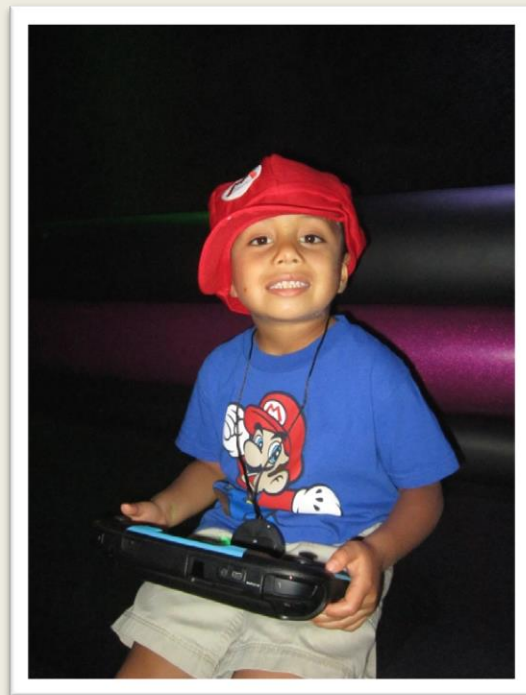

We offer 8-10 weeks of pre-delivery training, a 100 page training manual, 40 page Operations Manual and in person party and driving training.

We are second to none in helping our owners before, during and after the purchase of their Mobile Video Game Theater. When you have the Head of Operations, the Head of Marketing and Training and our Game Coach/Trainer a cell phone call away, you'll never feel lost and alone.

Rockin' Rollin' Video Game Party sets up 5 social media sites key worded for excellent search rankings, your reservation system and assists you with finding free internet listings. When they search for "Mobile Video Game Party in your city". You'll be there.

At RRVGP we aren't hard core sales people. We don't want to talk you into this business. We want you to succeed, tell others and expand your Mobile Game Truck Fleet. If this business isn't for you, maybe one of our other mobile entertainment businesses would be. We offer our Laser Maze Challenge Trailer & The Backyard Laser Tag Trailer with the same complete business package.

We offer a Private Facebook Forum invitation the moment you put down your deposit. We want you on the forum right away so you can peruse past postings, download files and ask questions about your new venture. With 60 other Mobile Game Truck owners active on the forum, there is always an expert ready with an answer or a word of encouragement!
